MAN HIT BY AUTO DIES RESULT OF BROKEN NECK

Arthur Hafmeister Victim of Crash; Wife Is Witness to Fatal Tragedy

A broken neck was the cause of the death yesterday noon, Sunday, June 4, 1922, of Arthur Hafmeister of 1150 North Columbus avenue, who was injured in an accident early Saturday morning and rushed immediately to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Eagerness to reach a city bound Pacific Electric train at the Lomita crossing in order to ride into Los Angeles with his wife, who was a passenger on it, caused Mr. Hafmeister to leave the automobile of Otto M. Clinton of 416 Palm Drive and dash across the street in front of an approaching roadster driven by J. C. Dennerlen of 1304 North Central avenue.

Mrs. Marie Hafmeister saw the accident, but did not know that the victim was her husband until she was notified later in the day in Los Angeles. She immediately returned to Glendale and was with her husband until his death.

Spinal Cord Broken

First examination revealed the fact that no bones had been broken and Mr. Hafmeister was told that the accident would not prove fatal. X-ray, however, indicated that the spinal cord had been broken.

Mr. Hafmeister was conscious until the end and said that he had wanted to reach the car in order to surprise his wife by riding into Los Angeles with her. He said that he had tried to step back when he saw the approaching automobile but had failed to get out of the way in time.

As soon as he heard of the death, Mr. Dennerlen reported to the police station and informed the desk sergeant that he could be found at his home whenever he was desired as a witness.

An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company.

Mr. Hafmeister was 42 years of age. He is survived not only by his wife but also by a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hafmeister, and several brothers and sisters, all of Milwaukee.

Funeral arrangements are awaiting telegrams from the east.

Court for Canines Who Forget Cages!

"Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye!"

"Bow wow, wow, wow!"

'Tis the voice of poundmaster Emil E. Fram of 438 West Windsor road who hereby gives final warning to the canine kingdom of Glendale.

Tomorrow is dog day in Judge F. H. Lowe's police court. He doesn't know it yet, but wait—he will.

All owners of unmuzzled dogs—that is, owners of all dogs that are not muzzled—beginning tomorrow, are to be haled into court by minions of the police department to pay fines ranging from $25 to $200, as the case may be. And you know how hard it is for Judge Lowe to impose a fine!

The noun "muzzle" in the preceding paragraph refer to the dogs—not to the owners of the same. But Mr. Fram, keeper of Ye Pooch Hotel, says that the dogs give him less trouble than the owners.

Meanwhile, Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, has announced that he will back up the law if it takes every warrant in the stationery department at the city hall. He says that if necessary hitching posts will be installed at ten foot intervals in the court room. No, the hitching posts are for the dogs—not for the owners.

ILA M. M'CLAMMY AND H. GORMAN ARE MARRIED

Couple Wed Under Arbor of Ferns and Roses on Sunday Afternoon

At a very pretty marriage ceremony yesterday afternoon, Miss Ila Mae McClammy and Harry Gorman were united, the wedding taking place at 4 o'clock at the Gorman home, 1143 North Louise street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McClammy, 334 Cameron Place, and the bridegroom, the son of W. W. Gorman.

The house was very prettily decorated in pink and white, with Cherokee roses predominating. The couple were married under an arbor of honeysuckle, ferns, and Cecil Brunner roses, making a very impressive setting.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds officiated at the ceremony, using the single ring service. Miss Marvelle McClammy, sister of the bride, attended her sister as bridesmaid of the occasion. Stanley Gorman, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Beautifully Gowned

The bride was beautifully gowned in a dainty beige colored suit of poiret twill and she wore a becoming Leghorn hat trimmed in periwinkle blue. The beauty of her costume was accentuated by a corsage bouquet of white brides' roses.

The bridesmaid was very prettily dressed in a sport outfit, wearing a silk white skirt and silk black sweater.

Two charming solos were rendered by Mrs. W. P. McMullin. The selections which were very fitting for the occasion were "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The accompaniment on the piano and the wedding march were played by E. W. Shuck.

Reception Follows

About fifty guests, all relatives of the couple and immediate friends of the family, were present.

The bride and bridegroom were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

A short reception was held after the ceremony, after which the newlyweds were secretly hurried away in a waiting automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gorman left last night for Coronado where they will spend their honeymoon. When they return, they will live for the next three months at the beach, 2718 Third street, Ocean Park.

RUSSIA'S HORRORS TOLD BY ELDER L. H. CHRISTIAN

Hearts of Adventists Stirred by Recital and Sum of $1,300 Donated

The compassion of over 500 members of the local Seventh-day Adventist church was deeply stirred Saturday afternoon in a special Sabbath service at which conditions in Russia vividly portrayed by Elder Louis H. Christian, who was there this spring studying conditions.

"The horrors over there are not at all exaggerated," declared Elder Christian. "You couldn't exaggerate them. I challenge any man to go in there and come back and tell us that they are exaggerated. I think the government today may want to minimize the horrors because they may feel that they are an indictment."

With reluctance because of their awfulness, Elder Christian mentioned briefly some of his latest repugnant experiences in Russia. He told how thousands of families had been found together on the roadsides—dead, and how the younger children had always been found wrapped in father's or mother's clothing. He told some of the conditions in the famine district and brought tears to the eyes of many as he described the ravages of hunger.

Sum of $1,300 Donated

"No one has authorized me to do this," exclaimed Elder Ralph W. Munson at the close of the address, "but I think this is a fine time to take up a collection."

The generosity of the audience was demonstrated at the close of the service when about $1,300 was donated to a fund for the purchase of medical supplies which Elder Christian said were needed in Russia even worse than food or clothing. He was much pleased with this response and arrangements are to be made to purchase these supplies in Germany in order to take advantage of the exchange.

As to how far this amount will go, Elder Christian was unable to estimate. He stated that the same sum invested in food would save the lives of a thousand people until next harvest.

To Leave For Europe

Elder Christian is a vice president of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Until recently his headquarters have been in Copenhagen. Following the general conference at San Francisco which has just closed, he came to Glendale to spend the week-end with his brother, Elder John W. Christian of 405 North Isabel street. He expects to leave today on his return trip to Europe and will make Switzerland his headquarters in the future.

The services were brightened by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hamer of 135 North Jackson street and by a solo by Mrs. Retta King Nelson of 501 East Windsor road. Mrs. Belle Johnson of 126 North Isabel street in both cases served as the accompanist.

Verne Wilson Host At Pleasing Dinner

Mrs. H. A. Wilson, 125 North Louise street, entertained at her home, Saturday night, for her son. A dainty color scheme of yellow was carried out in the dinner, the centerpiece of coreopsis, in the favors and in the nut cups, which were significantly decorated with wedding bells. There were among the guests two brides-elect, Miss Dorothy Mae Hamilton and Miss Lavera Kitterman. Little Donald Lusby presented the favors to each guest from a dainty basket. The living rooms were also decorated with a profusion of yellow flowers.

The guests included the Misses Dorothy Hamilton, Lavera Kitterman, Lois Percy, Helen Ingledue, Agnes Brown, Mabel Cunningham; Messrs. Russell M. Briggs, Cecil Percy, Elwood Ingledue, Kenneth Crist, Roy Cunningham and Verne Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Entertain Noted Actor

He has been in California for a number of months and is leaving soon for his summer home on the coast of Maine. Mr. Harris is planning to return to California next winter to take up his dramatic work and also with the motion pictures.

The seats of four republican senators, Rawson of Iowa, Hale of Maine, Kellogg of Minnesota, and McCumber of North Dakota, and twenty-eight republican members of the house are involved in the results. Valentino was also "mobbed" by a score of flappers who sought to congratulate him when the judge dismissed the charge. They swarmed around him in the courtroom until the judge was compelled to ask Valentino to step outside and then they followed him into the street, to his automobile. Lifting his hat with the air of a courtier, Valentino acknowledged the attentions showered upon him by the women and girls by smiles and nods of his head.

FILM CENSORSHIP AT EAGLE ROCK STOPS THEATRE

J. Rommel, Glendale, Halts Work; Mass Meeting to Discuss Ordinance

Publication of the proposed Eagle Rock motion picture censorship ordinance has again stirred the citizens of that otherwise peaceful community and at the meeting of the city trustees tonight it is expected that factions will be arrayed for a finish fight.

John Rommel, owner of the building in which Eagle Rock's first picture theatre was to have been established, declares that such nonsense is going to make a show impossible and unless the ordinance is forgotten, he will change his plans and build an apartment house.

Whoever drafted the ordinance, it is pointed out, did so with the idea of providing the promoter of censorship with pin money—whoever he or she may be. There is $200 a year salary and $50 for expenses while every theatre own-

GUESTS FROM ALL OVER WORLD ARE VISITORS HERE

Rotary Club and Citizens Host to Many Guests at L. A. Convention

Hundreds of Rotarians are in Glendale this afternoon, the guests of the local club and citizens who provided more than 100 automobiles for a tour from Los Angeles convention headquarters at the Philharmonic auditorium.

At the last moment windows, buildings and streets were decorated for the hosts of visiting delegates to International Rotary, which already has begun assembling for its week work in Los Angeles, the thirteenth annual convention.

Week of Welcome Begins

With practically every international officer and famous figure of Rotary now in Los Angeles, the city began its week of welcome for members of the organization, which has the golden rule for its guiding star.

One of today's arrivals was International President Crawford C. McCullough, of Fort William, Canada. Despite his arriving at an extremely early hour, he was met by numerous delegates, local Rotarians and officials of the organization.

The delegations which came today were from New York, Pennsylvania, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Louisiana and Cuba. With their coming, Los Angeles became for one week the center of a forceful organization, which in the amazingly short period of seventeen years has become of world importance in the rendering of service.

Show City's Beauty

Banners were provided the Glendale motor cars and the route of the motor tour this afternoon included a visit to the Kenneth Road section, the Verdugo Woodlands, Flintridge, Pasadena, Eagle Rock and the business section of Glendale.

Tomorrow all of the twenty-nine members of the local club will attend the opening session, President Roy L. Kent being the delegate with Secretary J. Herbert Smith, alternate.

Los Angeles Unable To Care for Sewage

The quarterly Regional Planning Conference, which was held Saturday in Santa Monica, was attended by Peter Diederich, city superintendent of light and water works, and C. D. Gulick, municipal bus expert. The report of the sewer committee was submitted by R. Orbison, city manager of South Pasadena. It recommended that suburban communities should make plans to manage their own sewage disposal plants for some time until a general plant could be constructed.

The report showed, it is stated, that Los Angeles is in no position now or in the immediate future to care for the sewage of neighboring communities and, too, that Los Angeles will have to secure legislative action before its plans can be carried out. Therefore, the report urged that outside communities prepare to care for their own sewage problems.

The Regional Planning Conference will meet in Glendale next September, it is announced.

Public Reception to Rev. O'Neill Tonight

A reception will be held tonight in the I. O. O. F. hall in the Ralphs building in honor of Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor of the Holy Family Catholic church.

This month closes fifteen years of service in the local parish for Father O'Neill who was ordained a priest twenty years ago—also this month.

During this period, he has had the privilege of watching the growth of Glendale and equally remarkable growth of his church.

Attorney James Degnan of 407 East Chestnut street tonight will act as master of ceremonies. Harry Girard of 145 South Orange street will have charge of the music. Mayor Spencer Robinson is expected to sing, also.

All friends of Rev. O'Neill whether members of the church or not, have been invited to the reception.

Mrs. William J. Richards and little son, Frank, of Chicago, are visiting her brother, L. C. Davis of 118 South Adams street, and also her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hurd of 110 South Adams street. Mrs. Richards expects to remain here about three months.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds Gives Illustration In Talk at Church on Sunday

Rev. W. E. Edmonds at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning spoke from the subject, "And Enoch walked with God."

"The secret of Enoch's life is told in three words. The rarest thing in this world is to see people walking with God. They are walking all other ways. In going through this chapter wherein Enoch is found, we see it like a leafless forest, his life standing out from the others as one great tree. What a thing to be a big Christian in such a day as this!

"The walk is indicative of the character. Which way are you headed? What is to be your destination? Many are they that go the broad way. A man is known by the company he walks with. It makes a difference whether you are walking for God, as if for wages, or with God. He shall supply all your needs, walking by your side; and it will be every day and all days.

"Enoch walked with God in harmony, in humility, in holiness. Harmony is the life of obedience—the life that without noise or friction works easily and freely under the divine will. Electricity can sit at my feet like a kitten if it is under law and made obedient. The telephone is our servant. The will that says: 'I won't' can't come into harmony. It is the normal thing for the life to be under God's laws and so in harmony, walking with Him.

Misconstrue Word

"Now humility: Why should we take this word and misconstrue it, as of a bowing bulrush? Don't try to be humble; you will make a mess of it. Humility has nothing to do with trying to be little. The low foothills around the mountain peak are part of the mountain. God is supreme; it is with Him we are called to walk. Humility is a relative term. If I walk with the king, every one comes out to see him. I walk with the King, people shall talk about Him. If you want to take the pride out of your life, go and look at Calvary. All that I am I owe to Him.

"And holiness: This word doesn't belong to any group; it isn't any one's peculiar possession. What does it mean? Wholeness, soundness, in perfect Christian health. The man who walks with God is the holy one.

"People are tempted to think this walk is a future one. But Enoch had walked that way before he was taken. It is our privilege to choose whom we will walk with—now."

BIBLE CLASS HAS ADDRESS FROM K. L. BROOKS

Speaker Takes Lord's Supper for Topic at Gathering Sunday Morning

"The Lord's Supper" was the topic of discussion yesterday morning in the council room at the city hall by the members of the Presbyterian Men's Bible class.

G. F. Snyder of 324 North Isabel street had charge of the meeting.

"Why is it that the sin of the traitor and the universal love of the Saviour are contrasted every time Christians gather at the Lord's table?" inquired Rev. Keith L. Brooks. "There was a hypocrite in the midst even at the table where the Lord Himself presided. It is no wonder that they still lurk in the churches. The very possibility that one may sit one hour at the table with the Lord Himself and the next hour go out and betray Him, should put us all to searching our hearts for there is something of Judas in us all.

"Jesus took bread and blest it and gave it to His disciples. Who is this Galilean in a borrowed upper room who steps forward and says, 'I hereby put away the old covenant with its sacrifices and feasts and substitute a new one for its place? 'Who is this that bids the Jews turn away from the God-appointed festival of Passover and sets himself up as the fulfillment of it all? What a tremendous audacity this was except on one hypothesis—He was the Son of God.

Memorial Before God

"The rite which Jesus here institutes is a memorial before God and the world of His gift and sacrifice and it is for the promotion of fellowship with Christ and His people. Just as we eat bread and it becomes a part of us so we may partake of the divine nature of Christ and He may become a part of us.

"The Lord's supper tells us exactly what He Himself would have us think of His death. It is impossible to deny that He taught its sacrificial character. By the Lord's supper He points out the moment of His whole career which He desires us to remember. It is not simply that we should think of the tragic end of a great man but that we might by it be reminded that it was through His sacrifice that we secured remission of sins.

"We can know by God's peace, which is given to the believer, that our sins have been laid on Him and that He died for us."

PRESENT RELIGION OF SOME KINDS CALLED BUNK

Dr. H. C. Funk Gives His Views; Urges Children Be Well Trained

"Up-to-date Religion" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Lutheran church.

"We hear a great deal in these days about the Twentieth Century religion," asserted Dr. H. C. Funk. They say our old ideas are behind the times; that our fathers and the reformers mean well but they are ignorant, groping around with nothing but old Bibles and worn-out creeds to guide them; and that, while these people are all honest and are saved, no doubt, yet their old ideas of religion will never do for the progressive age in which we live.

"Now, these critics claim to be very learned and they assure us that the liberal theories which they advocate are a wonderful improvement on the Bible. Well, their high-brow theories remind me of some students at college who took about a dozen different kinds of bugs and artificially constructed a wonderful insect from the different parts. They placed the bug on a table and called in the professor of natural history, who was getting old and couldn't see very well.

"They said:

"'Professor, here is a new bug that we have never seen or heard of before. Can you tell us what kind of a bug it is?'

Professor Knew!

"The old professor adjusted his glasses and looked it over. Then he said:

"'Yes, gentlemen, I can tell you exactly what kind of a bug it is. It is a humbug!'

"These people, who profess to be so wise, talk about evolution, liberalism, rationalism and higher criticism. And then to make it popular they call it the Twentieth Century religion. But I call it nothing but a humbug.

"The Sunday theatre, the Sunday moving picture show, and the vulgar Sunday dance halls are the result of the teaching of liberalism and a lax form of religion. Wholesome discipline and careful training are woefully lacking in most of our homes. Back to the Bible, the only infallible rule of faith and practice, the only safe guide.

"Let us bring up our children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. The child should be reared in the church, the garden of the Lord. Things left to themselves go to the devil, just as your lot uncultivated will go to weeds. You do not need an instructor to teach your boy to lie and steal but without careful training, he will never become a useful citizen."

'Glad Rags' Due to Evolution, Is Claim

CHICAGO.—You may have never thought of it before, but you owe your present-day "glad rags" to evolution—social evolution.

The sum total of biological evolution, according to Professor E. C. Hayes, of the University of Chicago, is naked savages.

But social evolution, he says, has produced the trades and arts that have made possible suits of clothes, Methodists, the Republican party and every refinement of our civilization.

"Biological evolution," says the professor, "produces a human species closely related to the chimpanzee. But the suit of clothes we wear embodies a great number of arts.

"Biological evolution never produced a Methodist or a Republican. Behind each Methodist stand not only Wesley, Luther and Christ, but the piety and devotion, longing and aspiration of uncounted nameless souls,"

Dry Chief Also Is Long Distance Talker

WASHINGTON.—They now have added the name of Roy A. Haynes, prohibition commissioner, to the world's list of long-distance talkers.

Haynes has interspersed a whirlwind program for drying up the country with about 20,000 miles of travel and more than 100 speeches since he took office less than a year ago.

The "Ohio Oracle," as his middle western neighbors call him, speaks usually without manuscript, and whizzes along, after a swift start, at the rate of 150 words a minute. He is noted for jamming big ideas into long sentences. A two-hour speech is just one of the passing incidents of the day for the prohibition chief. He boasts it matters not whether the auditorium is with him or against him in his views once he gets a full head of steam and rips loose for a torrent of words.

SEIZE BIG LOT OF LIQUOR

NEWARK, N. J., June 5.—Federal prohibition agents staged the greatest single liquor raid ever made in New Jersey, swooping down on a warehouse and seizing liquor valued at $500,000. Agents took possession of 8000 cases of whiskey which was all assorted, and many barrels of alcohol and bay rum.

May Build Asylum for Liquor Crazed People

HAMMOND, Ind.—Moonshine liquor is taking a terrible toll in this steel mill district, which teems with foreign born residents, who point out that with all state institutions for the insane filled to capacity, some place will have to be provided for the county's "white mule" insane.

Insanity, due to the effects of moonshine, has increased so alarmingly that officials are considering seriously the advisability of erecting a county insane asylum. One hundred and sixty-eight victims of illicit liquor are now being held at the county jail and at the poor farm, where it is impossible, because of crowded conditions, to give proper medical treatment for moonshine madness.

KILLED IN FOREST FIRE

SEATTLE, June 5.—Forest fires in Washington took their first death toll when Lee McDonald, 25, of Duval, was killed near Stillwater. McDonald was fighting a forest fire when a large tree whose bases had been weakened by fire, toppled over, killing him almost instantly.

CHURCH'S ADVANCE SERMON SERIES BY DR. CRIST

Endowment of Power Big Need of Today, States Methodist Pastor

"The Advance and Final Victory of the Christian Church" is the topic of a series of sermons being given at the First Methodist church.

"The ministry of Jesus was the ministry of life," asserted Dr. Clyde Monroe Crist. "Concerning himself, he said, 'I am the way, the truth and the life.' As to His mission, he said, 'I am come that ye might have life' and His lament was, 'Ye will not come unto Me that ye may have life.'

"The ministry of John the Baptist was the ministry of repentance. His was the 'voice of one crying in the wilderness repent for the kingdom of God is at hand.'

"When Jesus sent His disciples out to win the world, He said that they should 'go into the world and baptize every creature.'

"But before they were to go He said: 'Wait for the promise of the Father.' His injunction was, Tarry ye in the City of Jerusalem until ye are endowed with power from on high.'

"After ten days of waiting 'They were all filled with the Holy Ghost,' and immediately following this is the account of three thousand converted as the result of one sermon.

"The baptism of the spirit means first of all the destruction of some things in our lives. Some things are to be gotten out of the way: Anger, malice, envy, jealousy. This is definitely the work of the spirit. Is there not an added meaning to the words, 'Our God is a consuming fire?'

"Possibly the only big thing constructively accomplished by the Holy Ghost baptism is the endowment of power. Is not this the outstanding need of the church today?"

Mrs. Pearl Curran Returns From North

Mrs. Pearl Curran and little daughter, Gloria, of Riverdale Drive, with her mother, Mrs. Priscilla Linkogel, and Miss Hazel Linkogel, have returned from a motor trip to San Francisco, where they spent a very interesting ten days. During their sojourn they were entertained at dinner at the home of Alexander Saslavsky, Russian violinist, who was conductor of the Damrosch orchestra in New York for twenty years. Another guest was Helen Livingston, composer, of Hollywood.

They were entertained another evening at dinner by Victor Lichtenstein, violinist, formerly of St. Louis, Miss Hazel Linkogel was formerly his pupil, and he expressed himself as highly gratified at the wonderful progress she has made during the few years since leaving his classes.

In the motor party were three automobiles, the other members of the party, all of whom were relatives, were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Linkogel and child of Elk avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Curran spent Saturday night at Alhambra, where she attended the concert in that city by Bram Van Den Berg, pianist. She was accompanied to the concert by a number of her music pupils who live in Alhambra.

Avoid Imitations & Substitutes

Indigestion Unchecked Leads to Poisoning!

Fermentation of Food in Digestive Organs Cause of Trouble

If you suffer from indigestion it is a sure sign that your system is being slowly poisoned by the fermentation in the intestines. This condition produces heartburn, choking sensations in the chest, a feeling of heaviness or drowsiness, irritability, discouragement and despondency.

Mr. M. J. Christopher, 5724 Keyser Street, Germantown, Pa., long a sufferer from indigestion, writes:

"Before using Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines, I felt so badly that I did not care whether I lived or died. I suffered from indigestion and my stomach would be so upset that even a piece of bread and a cup of coffee would give me great pain. Since taking Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills I can eat almost anything without feeling any after-effects. The sore, achy feeling which I used to have in the lower part of my back is gone, and I feel so ambitious to do many things which I could not do before."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations and substitutes.—Advertisement.

New York Baseball Results Flashed Over Ozone

Baseball scores over the radiophone can now be recorded. Bob Koerner, a young New York schoolboy, started the new wrinkle by getting the returns of the game and putting them up on a blackboard. All the kids in the neighborhood flock around him each evening to hear the returns. This picture shows young Bob about to chalk up the results of one of the frames.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: I am new to radio, but would like to buy a machine, and am willing to spend as much as $50. Will you advise me what type of machine to buy, and what to expect from it?—Mrs. F. H., Glendale.

Answer: For a beginner, I can not too strongly recommend a crystal set type of receiver that is being sold right here in Glendale. This machine is a complete unit in itself and is, without doubt, the best crystal set I have ever seen or listened to and while the manufacturers give a very conservative distance in miles that this machine is capable of covering, it will do much better than they claim for it. Do not know of any other type of crystal machine that will get Catalina from Glendale, but this machine will actually do it, and the broadcasting from Los Angeles comes louder than I thought was possible for a crystal receiver. This machine sells complete, ready to install with all necessary equipment, for right around $30. It has a very unique feature in the fact that the makers of this machine also sell a detector bulb panel that can be connected right to this machine making a high class vacuum tube machine out of it that increases its range to approximately 150 miles, making it so that when you are ready for a vacuum tube set, you do not have to discard your crystal set. With this crystal set, you can get the broadcasting from Los Angeles, Pasadena, and under favorable conditions the wireless station at Catalina can be heard.

Question: Radio editor; will you please tell me if Kellog phones are considered good head phones?—R. B. S., Eagle Rock.

Answer: I consider them one of the best makes on the market.

Question: Is a variable condenser necessary on a crystal set, and why is it that some crystal sets have them and some do not? —M. S., Glendale.

Answer: A crystal set will work without a variable condenser, but the same machine will work a whole lot better with one. You do not find them on the cheaper sets for the reason that variable condensers cost money, and they are only found on the more expensive machines.

THE POTENTIOMETER

When crystal detectors are used which require a local voltage for best operation, it is advisable, in fact necessary, to provide some means of varying the voltage applied. The voltage is usually furnished by one or two dry cells such as are used for bell ringing or ignition. What is to be accomplished is regulation of the applied voltage and the voltage divider or "potentiometer" serves the purpose very well, indeed.

Referring to the figure, suppose that the resistance in shunt (connected across) with the battery has a value of only one ohm. The battery E. M. F. is, let us say, three volts. According to Ohm's law, the current flowing the resistance is three amperes. Now, the voltage, as measured by a voltmeter between one end of the resistance coil or rod and its exact center, is the product of the current through the resistance, multiplied by the resistance between those two points. This is just a simple rearrangement of the usual expression of Ohm's law. This voltage is then three amperes times one-half an ohm and equals one and one-half volts, which would be applied to the detector. But the current of three amperes if allowed to continue will quickly run the dry cells down. A higher resistance should be substituted, then, to conserve the battery energy. Suppose a resistance of five hundred ohms is substituted for the one ohm resistance. The current flowing is now three volts divided by five hundred ohms, or six-thousands of an ampere. This is a considerably weaker current and is no drain to speak of on the dry cells. But what about the voltage between the points previously considered which is applied to the detector? It is found by multiplying six-thousandths of an ampere by two hundred and fifty ohms. The result is still one and one-half volts. We get the same voltage to apply to the detector and at the same time conserve our battery. A little thought will show that moving the sliding connection indicated by the arrow towards the plus sign (positive end of resistance) reduces the voltage applied to the detector, and moving it in the opposite direction increases that voltage. The range of variation in the assumed case is from zero to three volts.

It is best to have the weak current from the local battery pass through the crystal in a certain direction, usually as shown in the illustration. This will insure a maximum response in the head telephones when the correct voltage is found.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN
RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP

DUPLEX PHONOGRAPH ATTACHMENT

Many people who have experienced "tinny" noises from certain loud speakers with tin horns have turned to the phonograph sound chamber. Several devices have been brought out which enable the phonograph to be used as a loud speaker, in connection with an attachment employing a rather special type of telephone receiver. It is not necessary, really, to buy anything except a device which can be used to connect the regular head telephones to the phonograph tone arm in place of the reproducer. Such a device is illustrated. There is an aluminum manifold, which can be fastened in place of the reproducer to the tone arm. The other two openings of the aluminum casting have rubber protectors so arranged that the ear pieces of the ordinary head phones can be fitted over them without damaging the rubber caps of the phones. The springy metal band with the small rubber buttons can be clamped down on the head phones by means of the wing nut. The head phones are then held securely in place, and the sound produced by each earpiece goes directly into the manifold, without producing any vibration of the metal parts. When the attachment is made the phones rest upon the turntable of the phonograph. There is no possibility of damaging the table.

The metal parts of the attachment are highly polished and nickel plated, so that its appearance is quite in keeping with a high grade phonograph cabinet.

TRIES TO HANG GIRL

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 5.—George Metzger, 42, a railroad employe, was under observation at the county hospital here today following an alleged attempt to hang his 14-year-old daughter, Althea. Metzger is alleged to have seized the girl and dragged her by the hair to the attic, where he placed a rope around her neck and threatened to hang her to the rafters. The girl's screams aroused the neighborhood and she was rescued.

Love and Robbery Carried on Radio

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

Saturday afternoon when I was coming into the office, our International News Service operator called me over to his desk, and handed me a couple of news items that had just come over the wire, and told me to use them in my column Monday, so here goes.

The first one is dated Lincoln, Nebraska, and reads: "Operating in a wide circle and reinforced by two airplanes and several radio-equipped automobiles, a posse of 500 men under the direction of State Sheriff Hyers, today is closing in on the town of Byers. When the ring narrows, officers believe Fred Brown, kidnapper and gunman, will be in the center."

Well, they ought to get him with all this modern equipment, and I guess it is getting so that these hard-working bandits have a hard time making a living these days, and what an easy time Jesse James must have had some fifty years ago and when about the only thing he had to dodge was the Union Pacific detectives. And speaking of Jesse James, do you know that he has a very close relative by the very same name who holds forth and is practicing law at Excelsior Springs, Missouri, and he is a pretty good lawyer, too. Was in this town about ten years ago; the firm I was working for sent me after a bad collection there. I saw the party that owed the money and he simply laughed at me, so I went downtown looking for a lawyer, figuring we had better get a judgment before the claim became outlawed, and when I saw that sign "Jesse James, Attorney-at-law," I went right up, feeling sure I was in the right place. And, do you know, he got busy and we had the money inside of an hour, and his fee wasn't very large, either.

The next item is dated Oklahoma City, and at that, I think they should have handed this to the society editor rather than me: "Frank Bird's voice broadcasted through the ether, set Dolly Smithson's heart a-flutter. She tuned his voice in on May 26 at Gainesville, Texas, and heard an Oklahoma City radio concert. It was a case of 'love at first hearing.' She wrote him, and a few letters were exchanged. Today they are Mr. and Mrs. Bird, preparing to 'build their nest.'"

Looking these dates over, it is pretty evident that "Dolly" must have worked quick, and it is a fact that radio is opening up a big new field for that sort of thing. I actually know a fellow over in Los Angeles who started to carry on a flirtation with a girl by wireless; he was talking to her by radio for several nights and finally she agreed to meet him, and they arranged to meet at a downtown corner on Spring street. He walked down there that night at the appointed time, and he said there was a crowd on that corner that was almost blocking traffic. It looked to him like all that gang must have been listening-in every night when he had been talking to this girl by wireless, so he lost his nerve and came on home.

Fastest Growing City In America Boasts of Live Rotary Club With 29 Representative Members

Boys' Work and Educating Crippled Children Here Among Activities; Code of Ethics Gives Insight As to Purposes of Organization

By GIL A. COWAN, Rotarian
City Editor, The Glendale Evening News

GLENDALE today welcomes the delegates to the 1922 International Rotary convention who have come to Los Angeles and Southern California for their annual meeting. Glendale is glad to have as guests the distinguished business men who comprise Rotary and who represent their various communities from many parts of the world as leaders in their respective lines.

Glendale—the fastest growing city in America—boasts a Rotary Club which meets every Thursday noon at the Chamber of Commerce banquet hall. It has twenty-nine members, headed by Roy L. Kent, general contractor and subdivider, who is president of the live organization.

George B. Karr, Baldwin shirt maker, formerly of Parsons, Kansas, is vice president. J. Herbert Smith, groceteria proprietor, and Rene Olin, public accountant, share honors as secretary as the former leaves soon for Europe.

William A. Howe of the Glendale Theatre is treasurer, and V. M. Hollister of the Valley Supply company, and H. S. Webb of H. S. Webb & Co.'s department store, comprise the board of directors.

List of Other Members in Glendale

The membership also includes George H. Bentley, lumberman; Paul Carson, organist; C. C. Cooper, investment broker; Gil A. Cowan, newspaper man; David Crofton, shoe man; Arthur H. Dibbern, jeweler; A. R. Eastman, banker; Owen C. Emery, attorney; E. E. Ford, minister; F. J. W. Henry, beverage manufacturer; W. E. Hewitt, laundry owner; William Hunter, paint and paper store owner; C. E. Jones, confectioner, formerly a Toledo, Ohio, member; C. H. Kirkman, stationer; George U. Moyse, high school principal; J. E. Phillips, undertaker; C. A. Redman, passenger agent; James M. Rroades, commercial secretary; William A. Tanner, Buick dealer; T. D. Watson, newspaper man; J. I. Wernette, realtor; and Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools.

The Glendale club has active committees on entertainment, boys' work, public affairs, fellowship, education, publicity and luncheon arrangements. The schooling of crippled children unable to attend school is being paid by the Rotarians here and a most successful boys' week program was staged the fore part of May.

For the information of the reader who is not a member, the following code of ethics outlines in brief what Rotary means:

Here Is Rotarian's Code of Ethics

"My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for our common humanity. My business dealings, ambitions and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as a member of society. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so when I have ended each of them, I shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher than I found it. As a Rotarian it is my duty—

"FIRST: To consider my vocation worthy, and as affording me distinct opportunity to serve society.

"SECOND: To improve myself, increase my efficiency and enlarge my service, and by so doing attest my faith in the fundamental principle of Rotary, that he profits most who serves best.

"THIRD: To realize that I am a business man and ambitious to succeed; but that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality.

"FOURTH: To hold that the exchange of my goods, my service and my ideas for profit is legitimate and ethical, provided that all parties in the exchange are benefited thereby.

"FIFTH: To use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of the vocation in which I am engaged, and so to conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate my example.

"SIXTH: To conduct my business in such a manner that I may give a perfect service equal to or even better than my competitor, and when in doubt to give added service beyond the strict measure of debt or obligation.

"SEVENTH: To understand that one of the greatest assets of a professional or of a business man is his friends and that any advantage gained by reason of friendship is eminently ethical and proper.

"EIGHTH: To hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of the confidences of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary, and in violation of its Code of Ethics.

"NINTH: To consider no personal success legitimate or ethical which is secured by taking unfair advantage of certain opportunities in the social order that are absolutely denied others, nor will I take advantage of opportunities to achieve material success that others will not take because of the questionable morality involved.

"TENTH: To be not more obligated to a Brother Rotarian than I am to every other man in human society; because the genius of Rotary is not in its competition, but in its co-operation; for provincialism can never have a place in an institution like Rotary, and Rotarians assert that Human Rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs, but are as deep and broad as the race itself; and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions.

"ELEVENTH: Finally, believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO UNTO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO UNTO THEM, we contend that Society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

Webster of 1002 South Central avenue entertained as her guests at an informal luncheon given at her home last week Mrs. William Wattles and Mrs. Fowler of Los Angeles; Mrs. Ford of Illinois; Mrs. W. C. Wattles, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. E. J. Morgan of Glendale; Mrs. Ed Lynch and mother, Mrs. Wood.

Mr .and Mrs. T. W. Preston of 330 North Jackson street are spending part of their time at Hermosa Beach, where they are building a duplex bungalow. Mrs. Preston has as her guest her sister, Mrs. Howard Johnson and baby, who arrived today from La Mesa, near San Diego, and will remain for the week.

Cross and Miss Elizabeth Porter, all of Santa Barbara and former residents of Glendale, were guests over the week-end of Miss Margaret Cross of 400 North Kenwood street. Roach, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Mrs. Wm. Gibson, Mrs. Chas. Glover, Mrs. H. A. Reed, Mrs. Charles Freshman and Miss Clara Ringert, and the hostess.

Sassy Jane Frocks On Sale at Gordon's

In appreciation of the year's business, the manaufacturers of Sassy Jane Frocks once a year make a special concession to their leading dealers for an Annual June Sale of Sassy Jane Dresses.

Gordon's, of Glendale, have secured seventy-five of these dresses which will be offered in two lots at unusually attractive prices Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Gordon's sales always prove an attraction for the women of Glendale, and at this sale Mr. Gordon says the values are indeed unusual.

THREE DEAD; JEALOUSY

NEW YORK, June 5.—Crazed by jealousy of love of his wife, George Krumpet, 48, today beheaded his 7-year-old son, William, killed his wife by slashing her throat, and then severed his own jugular vein and is dying in Bellevue hospital.

Cooks Roast and Freezes Ice Cream All at One Time

who is giving a demonstration this week at the Pendroy Department Store with fireless and steam cookers. She will show how to freeze ice cream and cook a roast at one and the same time.

Impossible, you say, to freeze ice cream and roast meat at the same time, both operations being under way with only the short distance of four inches intervening and neither interfering with the other?

This seemingly impossible culinary feat is to be demonstrated this week at the Pendroy Department store, at Harvard and Brand boulevard, by Mrs. C. S. Decker, with the "Domestic Science" fireless cooker.

Demonstrations are being given every afternoon this week, of both the "Toledo" and "Domestic" fireless and steam cookers. The turning out of a perfectly baked loaf cake in forty-five minutes, evenly browned on top and all sides, by Mrs. Decker, using the "Domestic Science" fireless cooker, last Saturday afternoon was highly praised by those attending the dmonstration. Many persons have the idea that cakes and roasts cooked in the fireless cooker will not brown as when cooked in an oven. However, this is not true with the "Domestic Science" fireless cooker. Unlike other cookers, the food is put directly into the cooker in the raw state instead of starting the cooking operation on a stove, and the food is browned and cooked, turning out a finished product ready for the table.

Mrs. Decker states that "the 'Domestic Science' fireless cooker is large enough to roast a turkey. It is aluminum lined and equipped with aluminum kettles. The cooking is done by means of soap stone radiators. The same length of time is required for the various cooking operations as when done on a stove. The feat of freezing and roasting in a double fireless cooker is made possible by the perfect insulation of the Domestic Science model."

The "Conservo" steamer and steam canner is also attracting considerable attention, with the nearing of the canning season. This is used on a stove and cans fourteen quarts of fruit at one time.

Republicans Seek to Hurry Program

By J. BART CAMPBELL
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5. The not remote possibility of the republican majority in the house being reduced materially, or control of the lower branch of congress even lost to the democrats at the November congressional elections, is today goading republican leaders to renewed efforts to carry out the administration's legislative program before the end of this session.

The note of warning sounded by Senator Jones, republican, Washington, chairman of the senate finance committee, "that if our majority in the next congress is small," the passage then of the ship subsidy bill, if its delay is permitted, "will be all the more difficult and uncertain," reflected the viewpoint of a number of other leading republican senators.

The same feeling of concern is entertained by them with regard to the tariff which the republican members of the senate finance committee are engaged in revising downward.

How to enact the tariff bill and the ship subsidy measure, and sandwich in soldier bonus legislation before the end of the summer presents a difficult legislative program which republican leaders concede is one for which no solution has yet been found.

President Harding is determined the ship subsidy bill shall be disposed of finally at this session. Under party pressure, the bill can be jammed through the house, but in the senate it is expected to encounter serious obstacles, not only on the democrtaic side, but from the small but formidable group of republicans who invariably resent any attempt to railroad an important measure.

The hint that if the bill is not passed by the senate at this session the president may call a special session immediately after adjournment, which republican leaders have been dropping freely lately, is said to be a reflection of the president's own idea of the situation.

SAYS FIGHT TO CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The fight for a constitutional amendment to permit congress to regulate child labor will be continued in both the senate and house, Senator Johnson, Republican, California, declared in a statement.

"The interest and agitation following the decision of the supreme court declaring the most recent child labor act unconstitutional, are healthy signs of our progress and mark the predominance of humanity in our social and economic life," the statement declared.

MEANEST OF MEN MEET KINDNESS WITH ENMITY

Rev. H. G. Preston Speaks On Obligations; Show Thanks, He Urges

"The meanest of men is an ingrate—one who repays kindness with enmity or accepts it without thanks," asserted Rev. Harley G. Preston yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"A man of this sort is introduced by Dickens in 'Bleak House,'" he continued. "An old soldier named Bagnet, conversing with a comrade in arms, says, 'You know my wife is a wise counsellor and I always take her advice—but I never tell her so.'

"We believe in God. That goes without saying. Life and all its blessings come from God. Three times a day we sit down to a table, which God has furnished for us. The glass of water, which we thoughtlessly lift to our lips, was provided by an exchange of exhaling seas and distilling clouds over which man has no control. The bread of which we partake as a matter of course required the early and latter rains and all the producing factors of the soil. Miracles on miracles to satisfy our need! Is it too much for us to say, 'For what we are about to receive, the Lord make us thankful?'

On Just and Unjust

"But perhaps you absolve yourself from any such obligation by pleading that you are not a Christian. Very well! Then consider the incidental blessing of the gospel which, like the dews of heaven, fall alike upon the just and the unjust.

"You live in a Christian land. You are compassed about by the advantages of Christian civilization. The vine grows over the wall and, whether you are a Christian or not, you pluck of its clusters every hour of the day.

"The home that shelters you, the laws that protect you, the books and newspapers that you read are all by-products of the gospel. Take Christ out of Christendom and you would have barbarism.

"It is the very essence of meanness to be a thankless receiver. 'That man may last but never lives, who much receives and nothing gives!'"

DUTY TO CHILDREN IS DISCUSSED BY REV. C. A. COLE

Great Responsibility Rests On Parents for Soul Life, Declares Pastor

"The Problem of a Child" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Central Christian church.

"All agree that the problem of the child is one of supreme importance," stated Rev. C. A. Cole. "Great solicitude and trembling should take hold of the one who is a parent of a child or its teacher for they have a great responsibility. We are in the Bible school giving more heed to the problem than ever before.

"The physical life of the child is a problem. It requires the utmost tact to know what is best to do in taking care of this development.

"The problem of the intellectual development is a most important and difficult one.

"But above these, the development of character and soul life, the leading of boys and girls into honorable and virtuous manhood and womanhood, is of supreme importance. Here failure is the saddest. To let anything go wrong with the physical growth is sad, and sadder still with mental growth but saddest of all is failure to develop character.

Given Little Thought

"Yet we give the subject little thought. We are prone to let them drift out into the sea of this world's turmoil and sin, till they have gotten out where they can scarcely be reached, and then we become solicitous.

"Most of the children in our Sunday school are from religious homes and not a few from homes where religion is real—where the word of God is read and a family altar kept. I maintain that a child brought into any other kind of a home has violence done to its birthright. Yet there are some who come from homes where their parents do not even profess to say the name of Christ with reverence. With these types of children our schools have to deal and the responsibiilty is great.

"The great mass of church members come early—many before they are twelve years old. The desire begins to decline with each succeeding year. Let us solve the problem by having them give their hearts to Christ early."

LOCAL TEAM WINS THIRD STRAIGHT; BEAT TIGERS

Glendale Merchants Annex Ball Game on Home Grounds, 8 to 2

Glendale merchants won their third straight game yesterday, defeating the Pasadena Tigers to the tune of 8 to 2. The pitching of Heidler and the hitting of Acosta featured for the merchants. Heidler struck out ten of the opposing batsmen and allowed but six hits which were well scattered, while Acosta seemed to hit everything that came his way, getting four hits out of five trips to the plate, including two doubles and a triple.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.

Toots Mondt, the Greely, Colorado, wrestler, has been the hard luck kid since his advent into San Francisco. About a month ago Toots was laid up for several weeks with a badly wrenched ankle, the result of a toe hold administered by Ad Santel. Now he is out of the game for an indefinite period of time with a case of near concussion of the brain as the result of a throw at the hands of Gardini, the Italian wrestler.

Recently the Stanford university undergraduate daily editorially expressed the opinion that the present trip would be the last that a track team of this institution would take to the east to compete owing to the expense and the time taken away from studies. Whether or not the recent good showing of the track team in the I. C. A. A. A. A. will make for a change of heart remains to be seen. Quite a different spirit has prevailed at the University of California where there is a strong sentiment to "keep the title on the Pacific coast.

Tent City, Coronado, is making ample preparations for an active summer season of aquatics as this will be the mecca for many champions of various kinds. Several national title swimming events are scheduled to be held there. It has a fine natural swimming course which is availed of for training purposes by southern California swimmers.

William Johnston's recent successes against William Tilden on the tennis court has had exactly the effect that was expected, namely, that of injecting an added interest in this sport. Already the experts are figuring on the probable outcome of their future meetings during the summer. Thus far opinion seems to be about equally divided as to the ultimate winner, with perhaps a shade in favor of Tilden being able to hold his own against the Californian.

Norman Brooks, veteran Australian tennis player, will be among those absent at Wimbledon this year. He was unable to make the trip with the rest of the team owing to business engagements which required his personal attention in the Antipodes.

The sale of William Kamm for $100,000 and two pitchers to the Chicago White Sox will form the basis of "copy" for some weeks to come. The popular third sacker of the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast Baseball league has shown a general improvement in his play ever since he started in the Coast League in 1919 and the way he is going at the present time evidently cinched the argument as far as Danny Long, Coast representative for Charles A. Comiskey, is concerned.

Kamm joined the Sacramento team of the Coast league in 1918, but was released. He was then signed with the San Francisco team and his yearly averages since then follow:

Batting — 1919, .235; 1920, .237; 1921, .288; average for the three years, .254.

Fielding—1919, .918; 1920, .932; 1921, 963; average for the three years, .933.

Add to this his record in the California winter league when his batting average in the complete season of sixty games was .330 and his fielding average .965; his figures show that he has the goods.

Since the close of last season the San Francisco club owners have had a remarkably prosperous year in the sale of its players. The franchise of the San Francisco club is said to have cost the present owners not less than $250,000, and this initial capital has been fully paid up to the owners by the sale of five stars to eastern major league teams in less than ten months past, and a net balance of $45,000 left on the credit side of the ledger.

The sales which have brought about this tremendous baseball financiering, in their many ramifications of cash payment and inclusion is as follows:

Willie Kamm	$125,000
Jimmie O'Connell	75,000
Jimmie Caveny	65,000
Frank O'Doul	10,000
John Couch	20,000
Total	$295,000

The figures are staggering and probably are a record for the sale of five minor league players to the majors. There have been large sums involved in the transfer of players from one or other major league team to another, but such sales have been unheard of with minor league stars as the merchandise and insofar as Kamm and O'Connell are concerned they are absolutely unknown to the majors.

PLAYING IT SAFE

It's getting so a boxer,
Who has become a champ,
Steers clear of all contenders
Who might his chances "damp."

The day after he wins the title
This is part of his stuff:
"Bring on your aspiring champions,
For matches I can't get enough."

Three months after the battle,
Says a "find" with a wicked swat:
"I'll take a chance at the champion."
Does he get it? I guess not!

Such bouts they always consider
With thoughtful indecision;
But we never hear of them failing
To go out of their own division.

The above "message" is dedicated to Benny Leonard, champion lightweight boxer of the world, who is also looked upon as one of the cleverest and most elusive "evaders" that the 133-pound class has ever known. For verification of this statement kindly consult with Lew Tendler of Philadelphia.

Is Leonard going to take a chance at losing his title when he can meet Jack Britton, welterweight champion, with all to gain and nothing to lose? We ask you, gentle reader, what nationality does his first name indicate?

BABE RUTH—ALL AROUND ATHLETE

It happened in the springtime
Of nineteen twenty-two,
When Babe Ruth's languor was turned into anger,
At a bellicose fan's "boo-boo."

The old boy's heart was broken
As the umpire said, "You're out."
He'd intended the swat to go out of the lot,
But 'twas only a one-base clout.

So, in giving vent to his feelings,
Said Ruth, the Sultan of Slug:
"If my mark I can't shatter as a home run batter
Then I'll try my luck as a 'pug'."

"The big fellow's mind has been under a terrible strain during the past few weeks," said Ban Johnson, in explaining his action in not suspending Ruth for his warlike attitude toward the umpire and fan. If it had been some unknown "rookie" who had lost his temper, instead of Ruth, the only difference would be that the said rookie's pocketbook, and NOT his mind, would be put under a strain.

PICTURIZATION OF LOVE AND GREED AT GLENDALE

Balzac Story Put Upon the Screen; Direction Is by Rex Ingram

In "The Conquering Power," Rex Ingram's newest production, seen last night at the Glendale theatre, he works in an entirely different genre. Here we have an intensely intimate study of family life, a universal story of love and greed against the background of a French provincial town. The story has been adapted by June Mathis from Balzac's novel, "Eugenie Grandet," with swift-moving, masterful continuity. Mr. Ingram has illustrated it with pictures that have the tonal quality of great works of art; the soft lighting of the photography and the perfectly composed groupings give an exquisite sense of reality. It is a long stride from "The Four Horsemen," but, as an artistic achievement, no less noteworthy.

Although there are no official stars, three of the actors stand out with a stellar glow. Alice Terry, delicately beautiful and charming, gives a deeply moving performance as Eugenie; Rudolph Valentino, handsome and debonnair, plays the lover, Charles, with a wealth of warm Latin temperament, and magnetism, and Ralph Lewis is thrillingly convincing as Eugenie's miserly father.

With the News and other reels, the program is particularly alluring as was evidenced by last night's attendance.

Tagging All Bases

The big Bam lifted his third homer of the season over the right field stands with Miller and Ward on base in the fifth inning, and the Yanks thereupon beat the Athletics, 8 to 3. Heimach was the victim of Mr. Ruth's venomous bat. Carl Mays, benefiting greatly thereby, beat the Athletics just once more. Mays has lost only one game to the Macks since he came into the American league.

The Tigers went down for the fourth time before the extremely offensive offense of the Indians, who climbed aboard Davis and Stoner for eight runs in the sixth innings. Stephenson had a perfect day at bat with four hits, including a double and a triple.

The Giants cast off their losing ways and when they came from the surreptitious rear in the ninth, scored three runs and beat the Dodgers, 5 to 4, before 32,000 fans, the largest crowd that ever witnessed a game in Brooklyn. Young's single with the bases filled scored the tying run and Stengel's sacrifice fly produced the winning tally.

Gerber's single in the tenth broke up a pitchers' battle involving "No-Hit" Robertson against the combined efforts of Pruett and Shocker, the Browns winning, 3 to 2.

British Troops In Ulster Offensive

BELFAST, June 5. — British troops in Ulster have opened an offensive against the republicans along the Ulster-free state frontier, and the first phase of it ended today in complete victory for the British. The British advance in County Fermanagh continues. British artillery now dominates practically all of the strategic points on the Ulster border.

Although an official communique, issued by British military headquarters puts the republican dead at three, an unofficial report from the front estimated their casualties at 30. A British shell is reported to have made a direct hit upon a republican stronghold in Pettigo, killing six republican soldiers.

According to the communique only one British soldier was killed when the British captured Pettigo in a storm attack. Pettigo is in the southwestern corner of Ulster province on the frontier.

British whippet tanks are patrolling the frontier and armored boats are patrolling Lough Erne. Airplanes are on scout duty.

In addition to Pettigo, other border towns are being occupied by the British.

The British forces which captured Pettio advanced from Enniskillen in two columns, supported by armored cars, heavy guns and airplanes. One column advanced directly upon Pettigo, the other moved upon Bellock. The republicans holding Bellock are reported to have evacuated the town rather than risk a bombardment by British guns.

Belfast passed through another fiery ordeal of violence over the week-end. From three to six persons were killed and more than a score wounded.

There is a heavy exodus of Sinn Feiners from the Ulster frontier counties.

At Dromore Irish free state troops surrounded the South Mayo headquarters, compelling the latter to capitulate.

BLOW AT WORLD TRADE

LONDON, June 5. — British business men are preparing to make commercial reprisals on the United States if the Fordney tariff bill is passed by congress, it was revealed today by The Star. This newspaper announced that British business men already are conferring and are studying methods of retaliation. British business interests, The Star says, charge that the Fordney tariff act is "a blow at world trade."

Champ Pen-Pusher

WASHINGTON—The champion pen-pusher of America is Frank White, United States treasurer.

When White gets through signing his signature several thousand times he winds up the day, eats and turns into "the hay."

But he is philosophic. If he were not he would lose more of the hair on a well-modeled dome that already is sparse in hirsute adornment.

A meter attached to White's pen probably would show that he holds the world's daily record for letter and receipt signatures.

The United States Treasurer under the law must sign personally a vast amount of correspondence, including papers of various kinds bearing upon huge amounts of currency and securities that reach the United States treasury each day from banks all over the United States.

Wagon loads of money are driven up to the treasury building each day with their precious cargoes from all corners of the country. A great deal of it comes in for redemption or replacement for newer currency.

It is the job of Treasurer White to account for each and every dollar of this currency. It amounts to many millions daily. He is heavily bonded. The physical exertion of affixing his signature to so many documents, leaves White at the end of an average day fairly well exhausted, but he grins and tells everybody he "should worry." For, of all things, White is a philosopher, and he wields a wicked pen, as they say in curb talk, and scatters the most influential ink in America.

Kin of Landru Seek to Change Their Name

PARIS.—Despite the fact that sentence of death has been carried out all is not finished with the famous Landru affair. After the publication of Bluebeard's letter to the public prosecutor comes a demand from his children to the French authorities requesting the "privilege" of changing their name to that of Remy.

Remy is Madame Landru's maiden name, which she resumed after a divorce had been pronounced in her favor while Landru awaited trial. There are four children. The eldest, a girl, is married. There remain two boys and one girl. The family is at present living just outside Paris, where Madame Remy runs a bakery and is doing well.

JUDGMENT NOT JUST

NEW YORK, June 5.—Judge Cohalan, in the supreme court of New York, has vacated and set aside a judgment by default rendered against the Dominion Oil company, a subsidiary of the Middle States Oil company, for $3,800,000. He held that the company was not in default and that no such judgment could be justified.

Passport Revision In China Is Asked

SHANGHAI—A request for the revision of the American passport regulations has been made to the state department through Consul-General E. S. Cunningham by the American Chamber of Commerce.

The present American regulations provide that if a passport has expired and it is desired to renew it, application must be accompanied by $10—gold. Approximately ninety days is necessary to forward the application to Washington and obtain renewal of the passport. In the meantime, if the applicant desires to travel on business trips in the far east, it becomes necessary for him to obtain an emergency passport from the local Consulate. This also costs $10.

In its letter the Chamber points out that local British residents may obtain passports from their Consul General for $2—gold—such passports being valid for two years and renewable for four further periods of two years each upon payment of a fee equivalent to fifty cents—gold. The Chamber asks that similar provisions be made by the United States.

TARKINGTON TALE BEING FEATURED AT T. D. & L.

'Man From Home,' Famous Novel, Screened; Rudolph Valentino Coming

Foremost among the novels which have brought Booth Tarkington lasting fame, is undoubtedly "The Man From Home," which has now been translated to the screen and which will be showing at the T. D. & L. theatre for the last times today. With the action laid mostly in Italy, and several scenes in England and America, the story is a thrilling one and in its transference to the screen it has lost none of its intensity. Produced by George Fitzmaurice for Paramount, it has been invested with the customary fire and vigor expected from this virile director.

'Beyond the Rocks' Tomorrow

Ralph Allan tells just what "Beyond the Rocks" coming to the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow, is. He says: "It is a flaming romance as only the author of "Three Weeks" could write it; as only Glorious Gloria, with dashing Rodolph Valentino playing the lover, could make it live in all its ardent splendor.

The story of a passionate young heart, bound by society's convention, struggling and risking all for happiness; of gay nights of revelry in the Paris world of fashion; of tingling adventure on the snow-clad crags of the Alps; of intrigue and coquetry in the gilded resorts of London high society.

Emery, Miss Wauni'a Emery, Miss Olive Bell Emery,, Miss Olive Bell Emery, Miss Josephine Emery, Miss Mary King of Hollywood, Gilbert Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Emery, Jack Emery, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Dean Bryant, Hugh Bryant and Albert Bryant motored to Santa Barbara Saturday and spent the week-end at the Arlington hotel. While at Santa Barbara they enjoyed a number of the beautiful drives around the city and also visited the old mission.

Man Badly Injured In Automobile Crash

The invalid coach of the Jewel City Undertaking company was called to Sunland Saturday evening about 6 o'clock to care for an accident where E. H. Ball of the Mahew apartments, Los Angeles, driving an automobile, was injured when the steering knuckle broke and the car ran into an embankment. Mr. Ball had both legs broken, one in two places, and also had his jaw broken and was otherwise terribly bruised. He was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital and is still in a very critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellus Return From Capital

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mellus of 355 West Lexington Drive returned last night from Sacramento, where they have been guests for the past two weeks of Frank M. Newbert, president of the fish and game commission, and also at the governor's ball, where all were attired in costumes reminiscent of the days of '49. Mr. and Mrs. Mellus also attended the California-Nevada trap shoot.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Rotarians Are With Us
What Will Be Their Legacy
T. R. Jr., Gives Good Advice
Comments By Contractor

By Gil A. Cowan

TODAY Glendale is being visited by Rotarians from all over the world.

Other communities of southern California are sharing in this benefit derived from the tour of the big business men and industrial leaders.

This city extends members of International Rotary a hearty welcome, but insists they can do a real SERVICE to their fellow citizens at home by telling them about Glendale—the fastest growing city in America.

And if these same Rotarians will only tell the people outside of southern California the truth about Hollywood, the facts about Los Angeles' remarkable growth and the way we Californians enjoy ourselves—

Why, then the hospitality extended them will return one hundred fold and they will have performed a great service to their fellow members in Glendale and Los Angeles.

Always there is something interesting in the news. Here is the strange case of a legless man and a legless woman eloping, deserting their respective wife and husband, according to the dispatches.

Both lost a leg in accidents and wear wooden ones. One almost wonders when they die, what will the legacy be? Surely their wooden legs will hobnob around together long after they are dead and buried.

Theodore Roosevelt, the great, is gone, but his son, Teddy, Jr., the assistant secretary of the navy, is among those present to hand out some good advice. This is what he told the graduates of the naval academy at Annapolis last Saturday, according to International News Service dispatches to The Glendale Evening News:

"Pattern your lives that your men swear by you—not at you."

"You may command obedience by your rank, but unless you command loyal devotion by your character, those under you will never serve as they would otherwise," said Roosevelt.

"A good commander can always meet his men on a man-to-man basis. Respect for rank is important, but respect for character is even more important.

"Battles are won by morale; morale is largely devotion to and confidence in the leader. It has been said that Napoleon won his victories because his men would march ten miles further for him than for any other living man."

One of the most pertinent comment columns appearing in any southern California publication is that found in the Southwest Builder and Contractor. The two following paragraphs are thoughts expressed in its current issue:

"A survey discloses that of 1478 cities and towns of the United States having a population of 5000 or more, 328 or 22 per cent, have no building code or public inspection of buildings. Of the latter 136 have a population of ten to twenty-five thousand and 20 have more than twenty-five thousand population. It is amazing that a city of 25,000 inhabitants should not have any building regulations. Admitting that all of such a city's inhabitants are too conscientious to need any legislative guidance we should think they would want some sort of a code for the sake of uniformity, at least."

"A trade school has been inaugurated by the Industrial Association of San Francisco," says the Contractor, "The first class formed was for plasterers. Seventy-five applications were received but immediate facilities limit the number to 25. A complete training course of 12 weeks, 5 days a week and 8 hours a day, is expected to turn out competent craftsmen. Elimination of a long term of apprenticeship will undoubtedly attract many men to the skilled building trades. Men are not content nowadays to put in two or more years learning a trade when other lines which require little or no skill, offer attractive pay."

TO STOP AT MIDNIGHT

NEW YORK, June 5.—The flapping of the flapper and the vamping of the vamp will hereafter cease at 12 midnight—on the dot—under rules to be placed in effect by the League of Brooklyn Parents "to remove temptation from the paths of their children and to avoid complications." Besides the curfew, the league will agitate for:

Chaperones for all parties and for the return home. Simple refined clothes at all affairs. Parties to be held only on Friday and Saturday nights. A careful selection to be made of plays and picture shows.

FORMER JUDGE TO PRISON

CLEVELAND, June 3.—William G. McGannon, former chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, boarded a train for Columbus late Thursday afternoon to begin an indeterminate sentence for perjury. The sentence grew out of the indictment and trial of the former judge for the murder of his friend, Harold C. Kagy.

McGannon was twice tried and acquitted at the second trial but a jury later found that he testified falsely when he swore on the witness stand in his own defense that he was not present at the murder scene.

FILM CENSORSHIP AT EAGLE ROCK STOPS THEATRE

J. Rommel, Glendale, Halts Work; Mass Meeting to Discuss Ordinance

er (if there be any under this plan) shall pay the city of Eagle Rock 40 cents per seat per year to maintain the organized interference with their business.

Small Town Stuff

Again, politics is being played in the ordinance, for each active civic organization that amounts to much in the eyes of the promoter of censorship, is to name one member of the board. So the Chamber of Commerce will have a place, as will the Twentieth Century Club, the Community Players, the D. A. R. and the P.-T. A., if the scheme succeeds.

"Small town stuff," one prominent citizen of Eagle Rock stated. "Eagle Rock is going to be the laughing stock of the communities surrounding it if its board of trustees listen to the already self-appointed censors."

Mr. Rommel, who is one of Southern California's foremost contractors with headquarters in Glendale, supplements this man's opinion by saying:

"I am glad that I learned of this proposed censorship before the building was completed for it would have cost me a great deal to change the structure into storerooms. I do not believe that the people of Eagle Rock will approve a censor ordinance in view of the fact that they can get to Glendale or Los Angeles for a nickel and see what they please.

"All that is necessary now is for the business men of Eagle Rock to protest the passage of the proposed ordinance, for if it does go into effect no one is going to invest in theatre property. I am sure the city trustees will take this into consideration for they are a group of fair-minded men, I believe."

Bazaar To Be Held

St. Dominic's chapel hall in Eagle Rock will be the scene of a bazaar beginning tomorrow night and closing Saturday night. Committees in charge of the various booths are striving to make their own better than the other, and some wonderful bargains are promised by the girls and women.

The doll department has received especial attention and the children attending will see the latest styles in playthings from Paris to Venice. There will be attractions to interest the men folks' pocketbooks, too, it is stated.

More Fire Protection

The Chamber of Commerce of Eagle Rock will meet tomorrow night at the Central school auditorium and discuss additional fire protection. A committee of five which was appointed to make a survey of the situation, is scheduled to report. A radio entertainment by a Los Angeles concern also is promised.

Club Names Officers

Officers have been elected by the Twentieth Century Club as follows:

President, Mrs. M. T. Lee; first vice president, Mrs. R. W. Stephens; second vice president, Mrs. A. Fisk; third vice president; Mrs. C. M. Hensley; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Moshier; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. W. Hunt; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Clausen; auditor, Mrs. Arthur Ducette; directors, Mrs. R. L. McNitt, Mrs. Hal Baly, Mrs. A. G. Reily.

Lots of Thrills Are Planned for Fiesta

For those that care for the thrills of sensational amusements such as stunt flying, fast auto and motor boat racing, the committee on amusements for the Glendale Fiesta, starting June 12 and closing June 17, have secured the services of the world's highest diver, Champion Matt Gay, who dives from a ladder 110 feet in the air to a small tank five feet in diameter and four feet deep, turning two complete loops in the downward plunge.

Champion Gay has been performing for the world's largest circus and as southern California has become his home he has volunteered his services for the six nights and will make his high dive as one of the numerous free acts that will take place on the fiesta grounds.

The committee in charge of the queen's contest will have the entries all completed and the standing will be announced from day to day starting tomorrow, ballot boxes will be placed in several of the downtown stores and all can vote for their favorite candidate at any of the voting booths, it is announced. Prizes for the queen's contest are on display at Arthur Dibbern jewelry store.

Bert Ellison Is Leading In Batwork

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Bert Ellison of the San Francisco team continued the premier batsman of the Pacific Coast league the past week with an average of .402. O'Connell, his teammate, and Hale of Portland were tied for second honors with .397 each. Smith of Vernon held third honors with .376 and Singlin of Salt Lake had an average of but two points less.

The Seals retained their lead for team batting with .316 and Seattle led in team fielding with .966.

Trio of Speakers at Club's Open Forum

Three speakers are to take part in the symposium and open forum meeting tomorrow afternoon at the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club at Masonic Temple. Mrs. Charles H. Toll will talk on "Women's Part in Pedagogy," Mrs. Kemper Campbell on "Women in the Legal Profession" and Miss Pearl Rall on "Women's Part in the Newspaper World."

Some of the most prominent club women of the state are among those who took part in the pageant, "The History of California," which is to be presented at the Glendale Theatre Friday afternoon, June 9, at 3:30 o'clock. This film was taken during the state convention of the California Federated Women's clubs at Yosemite last summer and is being shown by the Tuesday Afternoon club to secure funds to place the name of Cora Taylor, first president of the club, upon the honor roll of the California Federated Women's clubs and also to aid in the support of women's work in the state.
